Global Edge Institute of Tokyo Tech invites applicants for

ASSISTANT PROFESSORS AT TENURE TRACK POSITIONS IN SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

Global Edge Institute invites applications for several tenure-track positions at the assistant professor level in the following 8 fields of science and technology:

Chemistry
Organic and Polymeric Materials
Information Processing
Human System Science

Metallurgy and Ceramics Science
Environmental Science and Technology
Mathematical and Computing Sciences
Industrial Engineering and Management

Tokyo Institute of Technology is interested in candidates who are committed to high standards and professionalism in their areas of expertise. Candidates should be independent, and will be supplied with a start-up fund (up to 6,000,000 yen per year for the first two academic years) and training under a mentor. Appointees will also be requested to take up joint research with academic staff and graduate students, and to participate in seminars to cultivate the spirit of challenge, a creative mind, and international leadership. The assignment term starts on April 1, 2008, or later, and lasts until March 31, 2013. The assessment for tenure will be held at the end of the term, and, if successful, a tenure position either as associate professor or professor will be offered.

Applicants must have English language proficiency and a doctorate obtained no more than five years previous to applying. Salaries start at between ¥6,400,000 and ¥7,500,000 per annum.

To apply, make an entry on the website to receive an application number by November 21, and then send application documents required (application form, CV, general outline of research achievements, description of research plan and copies of about 5 representative papers) by November 25 to: ge-apply@jim.titech.ac.jp.
